

Expression of Interest

Learning Resources Creators

Learning and Business Systems Directorate

The School Magazine

EOI due COB 19 April 2019

Expressions of Interest are invited from suitable applicants to apply for a short-term part-time contract for The School Magazine as writers, developers and creators of Learning Resource materials to complement The School Magazine <https://theschoolmagazine.com.au/>.

Commencement: as soon as possible until 30 June 2019, with a possibility of extension

Statement of Duties

- Development of learning resource activities for teachers to use in conjunction with the stories, poems, plays and articles from each issue of The School Magazine.
- Working within the digital platform of The School Magazine to upload the learning resources on the website.

Selection criteria

- Recent teaching experience in a primary school
- Expertise in the English syllabus K-6, including the English Textual Concepts
- Writing experience for curriculum materials

Essential requirement

Hold a valid clearance to work with children (Working with Children Check) for paid employment.

How to express your interest

Please email your Expression of Interest to june.wall2@det.nsw.edu.au by COB Friday 19 April 2019 including:

- an expression of interest (maximum two pages) outlining your suitability for the role
- current resume (maximum two pages)
- contact details of two referees
- completed task as below and submitted with your EOI.

Task

Using the attached manuscript from one issue of The School Magazine, create at least three teaching activities that support the poem. You should

- include NSW English outcomes appropriate to each activity
- use the learning processes of Understanding, Engaging Personally, Connecting, Engaging Critically, Experimenting and Reflecting from <http://englishtextualconcepts.nsw.edu.au/content/about-processes-and-learning-progressions> as possible headings as a framework for the activities.

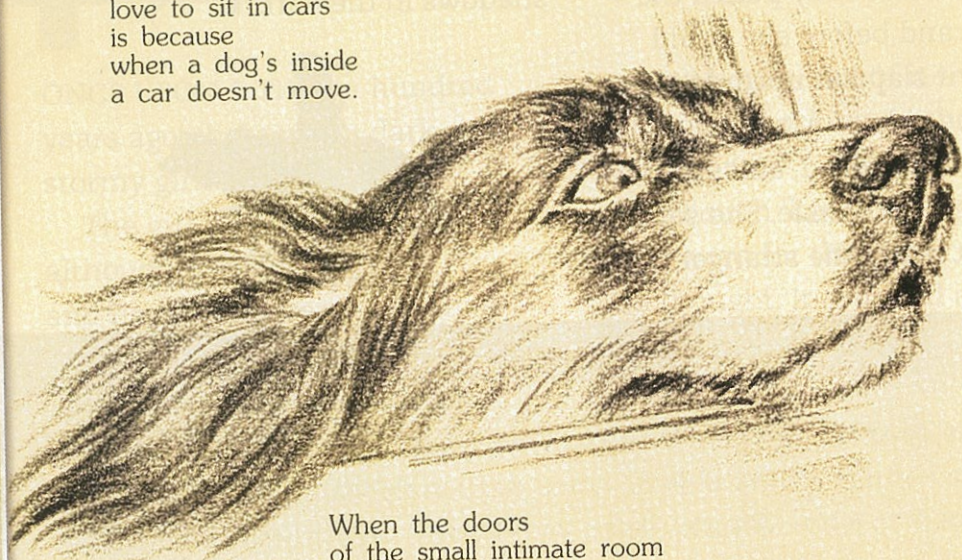

If you have any questions about the role, please do not hesitate to contact June Wall on 9266 8965 or by emailing june.wall2@det.nsw.edu.au

RELATIVITY

by WILLIAM HART-SMITH[©]

Illustrated by NOELA YOUNG[©]

The main reason why dogs love to sit in cars is because when a dog's inside a car doesn't move.

When the doors of the small intimate room with master and mistress in it close the room bucks and barks and makes most unusual noises and odours

then houses get up and run trees get up and run posts get up and run and telegraph poles

in fact everything does

With his nose thrust out bang in the eye of the galloping wind his right ear streaming like a strip of rag in a gale he for a change can sit still chin on the window-sill and let the world do all the running about.

This poem was published in The School Magazine in 1997.
