

Using subheadings

Let's explore the article 'Chang and Eng: The Siamese Twins.'

Before reading it, look at the article's subheadings. Record your predictions for the content of each section in the left-hand column.

After reading the article, summarise the content of each section in the right-hand column using no more than three dot points. The first one has been done for you.

Predictions of section content	Actual content
Subheading: Double the spirit!
Subheading: The twins on tour
Subheading: Love and War

1. How close were your predictions to the actual content?

2. Look at the images accompanying the article. Explain how they make the text more interesting.
